Founded in 1967, Lakeland Community College was the first college in Ohio created by a vote of the people. True to our mission, Lakeland provides quality learning opportunities to meet the social and economic needs of the community. Likewise, Lakeland's Holden University Center exemplifies the mission of the college both by allowing area residents to conveniently and affordably earn bachelor's and graduate degrees, and by helping area businesses fill the demand for qualified workers.

In 2010, the college made a levy promise to create a university center to satisfy the need for Lake County area residents to earn a 4-year degree close to home. The center would also add much needed classroom and laboratory space for Lakeland students and expand training opportunities for local businesses. In the fall of 2011, the Holden University Center opened with seven college and university partnerships offering 14 programs to prospective students. Currently, there are 11 partners and more than 30 programs from which to choose.

Located on the main campus of Lakeland Community College, west of State Route 306, the Holden University Center provides an affordable, quality education and convenient way to earn a bachelor's or graduate degree close to home. By removing some of the barriers that have prevented area residents from getting their degrees and improving their lives, Lakeland's Holden University Center is transforming higher education in Lake County.

Lakeland Community College's partnership program has allowed me to pursue my Masters of Business Administration degree through Lake Erie College on a schedule and timeline convenient for me and my family. I can choose between online classes for greater flexibility or classes held at the Holden University Center in Kirtland for the traditional, interactive classroom experience.

- Cheryl Whittington

Class Format.

Classes are taught by university partners through multiple delivery methods including:

- Online Courses

In fully online courses all instruction is delivered online. Students are not required to come to campus to participate in any portion of the coursework or evaluation.

- On-site Courses

In on-site classes students are required to come to campus for class.

- Blended (Hybrid) Courses

The blended (hybrid) course provides the advantages of face-to-face interaction between faculty and students with the flexibility and convenience of less time in the classroom. Significant coursework and interactions between instructor, students and classmates take place both in the classroom and online.

- Interactive Video Distance Learning (IVDL)

IVDL classrooms combine the traditional face-to-face instruction with distance learning by using special video and audio conferencing technology to connect two or more classrooms. Students located in one classroom are able to interact in real-time with an instructor and students located at a distance.

I was not your typical returning college student. I was pursuing my degree after having a different career for 30 years. Everyone at the Holden University Center and Lakeland Community College worked with me in a very successful partnership journey. They were very helpful and understanding to my needs. I am proud and excited to announce that I am a graduate of Youngstown State University through the wonderful partnership with the Holden University Center.

- Lee Ann Tanner
